SUBJECT:

Pedestrian Crossing on 7th Street at John Adams - UPDATE

BACKGROUND:

City staff is moving forward on the acquisition of the City's first rapid flashing beacon. The unit has been ordered and will be received soon. Because of concerns over its installation in the historic McLoughlin neighborhood, City staff made contact with the neighborhood association who indicated they were okay with the unit as long as it was powder coated black to match existing furnishings. Additionally, City staff will verify that the Historic Review Commission is okay with the rapid flashing beacon at its meeting on May 28.

Assuming the City receives approval to install the rapid flashing beacon, its installation will occur some time after July 1.
